

PARTY TIME

As usual, we had a look in the fridge late at night.

We've got beer, wine... time to party!!!

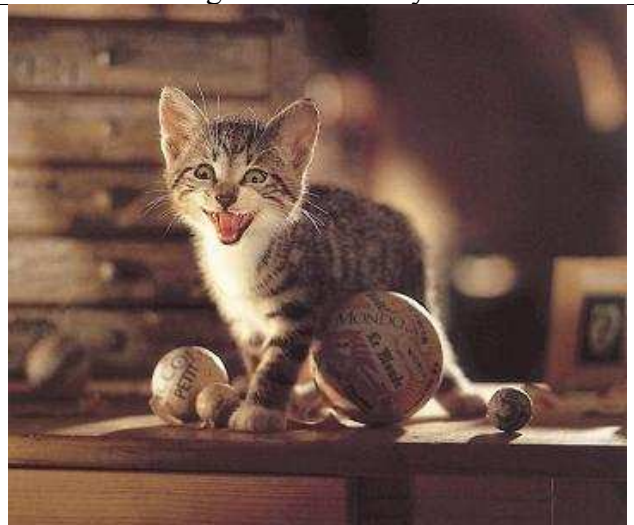

We went a little crazy...

...our legs went all funny on us...

...the ground started to spin...

...our eyesight did weird things too...

...we played some strange games...

...made new and interesting friends...

...group activities were heaps of fun...

...until we finally passed out.

Some here...

...others here.

The morning after brought a shock – what’s burning our throats so much?

WATER!!!

WATER!!!

WATER!!!

We’ll take it with bubbles...if there’s nothing else.

Then time for cleaning.

Friends will help.

How to get rid of this taste???

One last look in the mirror.

And we're dropping off at home.

Despite everything...its good to have friends like these.

And get a good nights rest.

BECAUSE I HATE THE MORNING AFTER!!!
